Dear William Alsup!

I already wrote you two [illegible] and mailed them, you should have already received and read them, but unfortunately I, Yevgeniy Nikulin, have not received any permissions or responses yet.

I remind you that I requested written permission to use a personal gaming device. I also request that my old gaming console be returned to me, which was taken from me because I was sitting with it and talking on the phone, what I mean is I went out into the common area from my room and took it to charge it (because I am not allowed to charge it in my room) and decided on the way to call my parents from the jail's landline phone. While I was talking, a guard came up to me and told me to take the gaming console back to my room, which I did. The next day, the guards came and took my game. I feel this is unlawful and unjust. That is why I request that you give written permission to use [it] and also [permission] to give me a new gaming console (something like a Nintendo 3DS etc.) (PSP) handheld, portable. There are lots of different ones. The law allows it.

I sent the first letter on August 6, the second on August 26, 2020.

Thanks

Yevgeniy Nikulin
